SOLIDARITY WITH SERBIAN ANARCHO-SYNDICALISTS

Six anarchists have been arrested in Belgrade following an attack on the Greek Embassy in April. The attack was claimed by a previously unknown group, and was said to be in solidarity with the recent uprising against the Greek state.

Those arrested deny all knowledge of the group and the attack, and believe that this is an attempt to criminalise the growing Serbian anarchist movement. The activists are members of the Serbian section of the International Workers' Association.

They have been remanded in custody for 30 days while the Serbian state prepares its case. If convicted, these activists face long prison sentences.
